(By telegraph to the Dispatch.)

CINCINNATI, September 9.—The Commercial-Gazette has telegraphic advices from Washington Courthouse, O.,

that a terrific cyclone passed over that neighborhood last night, doing great damage to property. A number of lives were lost.

A Bloomingburg special to the same paper adds that that town is in ruins. ng to the condition of the telegraph wires the details cannot be given. violent electrical disturbance was seen to the north from Cincipnati last night, although the storm here was not very COLUMBUS, O., September 9 .- The most alarming reports are current here regarding the loss of life and property in Washington Courthouse, where the cyclone gutted the city last night. Help was sent this morning to the destitute families. At Plains City, eight miles from this city, a carriage-factory and mill were demolished and factory and mill were demolished and other buildings unroofed. This place is on a direct line north of Washington Courthouse, and all along south to the Ohio river the trail of destruction is reported in like manner.

CLEVELAND, O., September 9.—A Leader special from Springfield says A terrible cyclone struck Washington Courthouse, a city of 4,000 inhabitants, twenty-five miles west of here, at 8 o'clock last evening, and almost literally swept it from the earth. It from the northwest and broke upon the town very suddenly, car-rying everything before it. The tornado whirled up Court street, the main business thoroughfare, and ruined almost every business block on it, at least forty or fifty in all. Hardly a private residence in the town escaped, fully four hundred buildings down. The Baptist, Presbyterian, and Catholic churches all suffered a common fate. The Ohio South-ern, Panhandle, Narrow-Gauge, and Midland railroad depôts were into "smithereens," and every build-ing in the vicinity was carried away, making ingress or egress almost impossible. Every wire within a circuit of two miles is down. The reports received of the catastrophe are from a telegraphoperator who tapped the wire two miles west of the town, and, sitting in a heavy rain-storm, works his instrument. The panic-stricken people were taken completely unawares and fled from tumbling buildings in every direction through the murky darkness. Mad frenzy seemed to seize them, and they hurried hither and thither in their wild distraction, little knowing whither they were fleeing. After the whirl-wind, which lasted about ten minutes, a heavy rainfall set in, which continued unabated during the night.

As soon as a few of the cooler heads recovered their senses searching parties were organized, and the sad work of looking for the dead began. So far fifteen bodies have been recovered from the debris of the various ruined buildings, and the dreary work is just beginning to get under way. It is as many more will be found. The glimmer of lanterns, procured from farm-houses in the vicinity and from the few houses left standing, was the only light they had to work by. Two or three bodies were stumbled upon in the middle of the street, where they were stricken down by flying bricks or timbers. The cellars of houses and every sort of refuge were filled with shivering people, huddling together in the vain attempt to warm. One babe in arms has died from exposure. The morning trains will carry plenty of assistance. DEVASTATION AT OTHER POINTS.

CINCINNATI, September 9 .- Reports from various parts of Chio and Indiana show that yesterday's storm, which devastated Washington Courthouse, was widespread in Miami county. Ohio. Its course was due east. At Colesville, in that county, two barns were blown down, and the dwelling of Mr. Winterstein was carried around and one side and one end blown away. Three members of the family are se riously hurt. On the other side of Miami river a grain-house was blown away, and Berry Ramsey's frame house was blown from its foundation and wrecked.

The path of the storm was from forty rods to half a mile wide. At Cambridge City, Ind., M. Shanks's house was blown down and Mrs. Shanks injured. At Dublin several houses were wrecked. At Seymour, Ind., and Napoleon. O., much damage is reported. but no lives were lost. Advices from Circleville, O., state that last night's tornado passed through the county a few miles south of that place, unroofing houses and blowing down fences and trees. A very heavy rainfall accompanied the storm.

THE KILLED AND WOUNDED AT WASHINGTON COURTHOUSE.

A special dispatch to the Times-Star from Washington Courthouse says : Mrs. Mollie Jones, Edith Floyd, Ella Forsha, Jennie Forsha, and Flora Carr were killed, and Herbert Taggart, James Jackson, and John C. Vanpelt are supposed to be fatally injured. Fully three hundred persons were hurt. The loss will exceed $1,000,000. The council has appointed a relief committee and the militia are guarding the stores, whose contents are all exposed.

COLUMBUS, O., September 9 .- An Erening Dispatch special says : Among the killed at Washington Courthouse is a girl named Shackelford; aged ten. Among the seriously injured are Judge Asa Gregg, W. W. Sharp, Bowman Hess, Milton Hyer, Hugh Foster, II. H. Whelpley, and a station agent. The list of slightly injured is very large.

DETAILS OF THE STORM AT WASH-INGTON COURTHOUSE.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, September 9. Washington Courthouse, the scene of one of the most disastrous visitations by the elements last night, is the coun ty-seat of Fayette county. It has had a most extraordinary business growth within the past fifteen years, and being the centre of a rich agricultural district, with excellent railroad facilities, it had grown to be a business place of considerable importance. Its residents had beautified the town with tasteful dwellings, and its recently-completed court-house was one of the best in the State. To-day this prosperous town is a mass of ruins. Last night's experience of its inhabitants has no parallel in the experience of any town in Ohio. A heavy rainfall began about 8 o'clock last night ; that and the darkness drove everybody into shelter, so that while there are some who say they saw funnel-shaped clouds, it does not seem possible that there could have been much observation of the heavens. Shortly after the rain began the wind came with a terrifying sound. Its work was almost instantaneous. People say it was over in two minutes, but nobody could take note of the time in such a fearful experience—the fierce roaring of the terrible tornado, the crash of flashes of lightning, the rolling than-der, and the pitiless rain. When the flerceness of the storm had passed and when men could communicate with each other it was found that all were in darkness. The gas-works were destroyed and all the street-lights were out. Only by lightning flashes were the frightened people able to catch glimpses of the desolation that had glimpses of the desolation that had wrecked that little city. The number of deaths was miraculously small. The next duty was to search for the imprisoned and injured. In this there was a prompt and whole-hearted effort. Bonfires were lighted and torches improvised. The debriz was overturned to see if any nore dead could be found. The cheerul, welcome doors of such houses as were not destroyed were opened for the nouseless ones driven into the rain. In many cases these were utterly bereft of all their household goods. The night was a fearful one; but it was full of helpful work for the stronger. The sheriff called upon the militia to set a mard over the exposed stocks of all business-houses; for they were all broken or destroyed, and prowling thieves were not wanting even in the first hour of the city's misfortune. Of course their numbers grew to-day, when crowds of visitors poured in. With daylight came a most dis-heartening spectacle. The streets were wellnigh impassable from trees and parts of houses cast into them. The worst of all was the sight of the poor, who had lost all, and who had no place of shelter. They wandered hopelessly about, as if they were strangers. Of course the people whose houses were not ruined began at once to care for their unfortunate fellow-sufferers. Farmers soon began to pour nto the town, drawn by curiosity, but at the same time bringing with them substantial aid for the destitute. Before the day ended the councils had taken formal action by organizing a re-lief committee, and by night much was done toward preventing actual priva-tion. The great wonder is that more lives were not lost. In the Odd-Fellows' hall forty mem bers were gathered at a meeting in the second story when the storm came. The building was literally thrown down.

vent down with the ruins and escaped,

SOURI. KANSAS CITY, Mo., September 9. The Journal's Rich Hill (Mo.) special says: High winds visited this place last night, causing several thousand dollars' damage. The fine brick resi-dence of Mr. Klatzebe was partly demolished, and his son, aged crushed to death. H. W. Booth's house was torn from its foundation, and a number of others unroofed.

OFFERS OF AID.

CHARLESTON, S. C., September 9. As soon as the news of the disaster at Washington Courthouse, Ohio, reached here telegrams were sent to that town offering aid if needed, as a recognition of sympathy extended to Charleston in her trouble.

A Bitter Railroad Rate War [By telegraph to the Dispatch.]

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., September .- The bitterest rate war that has ever occurred between southern rail roads is now in progress. The war was begun two weeks ago by the Western and Atlanta road, which made a cut of 55 per cent. in the eastern rates out of Chattanooga. This cut was made on account of the rivalry existing between that line and the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia road. The cut was not met, and thereupon the West-ern and Atlantic officials announced that the low rates would be permanent. At once the East Tennessee made a cut of 60 per cent, on eastern business out of Atlanbrought into the fight. It is now said that the officials of the Western and Atlantic railroad will open a ticketoffice in Knoxville and begin an indisriminate cut to all southern points. The Louisville and Nashville is being drawn into the fight, and threatens to make the rate from Chattanooga to Memphis $2 instead of $8, as now-1 blow against the East Tennessee system. All the southern lines are be-

He was seventy-six years of age. ther Clark was a Pennsylvanian by birth, and was at one time president of the College of the Holy Cross, at Worcester, Mass., and subsequently held the same office at Gonzaga College, in this city. He was a graduate of West Point, a classmate of General Robert E.-Lee, and served for some time in the United States army.

Coal-Xmers' Strike.

[By telegraph to the Dispatch.] SHAMOKIN, PA., September 9. atterson & Lewellyn, who operate the Big-Mountain colliery, and the Reading Coal and Iron Company, who operate the Eurnside colliery, to-day reduced wages 50 cents per yard. The miners have struck. They charge that the operators are evading the timber-cutting law. Mine-Inspector Ryan says he is powerless to act in the matter. is every prospect of a long strike. There is considerable dissatisfaction among the miners in this region.

[By telegraph to the Dispatch.]

PITTSBURGH, September 9 .- James T. McIntosh, aged twenty-three years, shot and fatally wounded his mother this morning at the family residence, Pine Creek, five miles east of this city. The mother had requested him to shoot a cat, and as he fired she stepped directly in front of the animal, the bullet burying itself in her brain. The unfortunate woman is still living, but cannot recover. The son is crazed by grief, and tried to kill himself.

THE BUGLE CALL.

GENERAL LEE IN ROCKBRIDGE

[Special telegram to the Dispatch.]

NATURAL BRIDGE HOTEL, VA.

September 9.—General Fitz Lee, since his arrival in this section of the State has been speaking twice a day to large and enthusiastic meetings. On the 7th he spoke at Lexington to the largest political meeting held there since the war and the next morning at Covington, eighty miles distant. He and Daniel spoke in the open air, with threatening clouds overhead, for several hours, and that night both of them spoke at Clifton Forge. The next morning they spoke at Buchanan, and there the two separated-Daniel to fill his appointments and Lee for Rockbridge county. On the arrival of Lee at the Natural Bridge station he was met a committee, placed in a hack, and rapidly driven to the hotel. He had been there only a few minutes when in the distance the sound of a bugle was heard, and in a few minutes a large number of mounted men were seen riding along the road in the direc-tion of the hotel. On reaching the main building they came to a halt, passed in review, and were briefly addressed by General Lee. At the close of his remarks three rousing cheers were given for Fitz Lee, the next Governor of ginia. Quarters were then assigned to the men. At the head of the cavalcade was a beautiful horse with handsome bridle and saddle, intended for Lee to ride to-morrow morning (Thursday).
At an early hour the cavalry will be in line, with Lee at the head of the column, and by his side will ride the sergeant with a large United States flag. They will take the road for Lexington. Captain H. Davis is the com mander, and his marshals are Ash Harman, William Jolliffe, R. T. Mc-Will Hopkins, and Daniel Cloude, Moore. Upon the coat of each is a handsome silk badge, with these words: "Fitz Lee Cavalry." On the road to Lexington they will be joined by others. yet not one was injured. Thirty-one while nine clung to the walls of an adjoining block and were rescued by ladand when in four miles of the town will e met by a command numbering two hundred or more. At Lexington Lee will remain during the day, and a re-On Friday ception will be given. forning these cavalryman will escort Lee to Cedar Grove, at which point they will be met by mounted men from all parts of the lower end of the county. From that point the cavalcade will proceed to Brownsburg, where there will be held a large Democratic mass-meeting. Lee, Ran. Tucker Anderson, Graham, and others will speak. From Brownsburg the proces sion goes to Fairfield, reaching there in the afternoon, and at night Lee will wind up his canvass in Rockbridge and go to Augusta and speak Saturday. He

GALVESTON, September 9 .- A sp cial to the News from Gainesville Tex., says: "At about 12 o'clock Monday night a wagon arrived in this city with the dead bodies of Jim and Pink Lee, noted desperadoes and outlaws, who for two years past were the terror of the people of Delaware, Bend, and Cook counties. Their plan of operation was to steal cattle on the Texas side and drive them across the into the Indian Territor Red river where the three Lee boys had a ranch Last April, while John and Henry Roff, two respectable cattle-owners of this county, with two officers, one o whom was a deputy United States marshal, were on a searching expedition in the Chickasaw Nation for cattle bearing Roff's brand, they came upon the strongholds of the Leegang and bravely approached the stockade to arrest the cattle-thieves. The desperadoes opene fire through the port-holes of their fortifications, killing both of the Roff brothers and the two officers, whose bodies lay exposed for several days and were partially eaten by hogs. large rewards have been offered for the capture of the Lees, dead or alive. Bill Lee, together with two members of the gang named Stein, was captured in May and taken to Fort Smith, Ark. for trial before the United States Court. All efforts to locate and capture Jim and Pink Lee proved navailing till Monday evening. Many detectives have at various times worked on the case in the hope of securing the various rewards, which aggregate $7,000. Yesterday Detective Heck Thomas, of Fort Worth, learned that the Lee brothers were somewhere in the vicinity of Dexter, a small village of this county, and taking two officers named James Taylor and James Settle with him, he started out in search of the desperadoes. About 3 o'clock in the afternoon the officers came upon the outlaws upon John Washington's ranch. where they were cutting pasture fence. The officers dismounted and crept up within forty yards of the brothers and ordered them to surrender. For answer the outlaws opened fire on the officers, which the latter returned with the Winchesters, killing Pink Lee and wounding Jim in the neck with the first volley, Jim fell, but continued to fire, discharging ten shots at the officers before he was killed. Thousand of persons viewed the remains yesterday. The faces of the dead outlaws show them to have ignorant and brutal. Jim and Bill Lee were leaders of a gang of about twenty thieves. They are said to have com mitted over forty cold-blooded murders within the past two years. No band of desperadoes and thieves ever infested the Red-river country who were

Resolved, That we, the citizens of Indianapolis, in mass-meeting assembled, believing that Ireland has plainly proven her capability to govern herself, and that in the unrestrained enjoyment of those incentives to industry and progress and opportunities for development, which are the right of ment, which are the right of all people, she has within herself all the elements of true greatness—not that greatness alone which springs from war or conquest, but that which follows pursuits of the arts of peace, the promotion of the people's happiness, and the elevation and canobling of the whole human family; believing that, instead of a crippled dependency, she has been unwillingly made by unjust and vicious legislation a stunted bly die to-night.

werf of English prejudice and hatred he possesses all the essentials train and the brawn, wealth of soi and wealth of soul that go to up proud and prosperous nations. Be-lieving that the world has grown too broad and grand in its aims and possiies to countenance the sen bilities to countenance the senseless and bigoted cry of "impossible," which we now hear echoed from Eng-land's press in answer to the demand of a united people for those rights of which they have been robbed and which they are bravely battling to reclaim; and beholding all these facts, we cheerfully pledge her our most earnest sympathy and support in this hour so fraught with hope for her future. We have watched her during the long dark years, and sorrowed at her helpless misery, and now when the dreary night brightening into dawn it is not for us to relax our efforts. We have shown our solicitude for the feeble infant in its years of nerveless dependency, and fostered and encouraged its growth; and now that it has resumed the proportions of a grand and vigorous maturity, and meets with a bold, unflinching front the Power that has hampered it for ages, it is our highest pride and privi-

road, has gone to Greenville to make final arrangements for the construction Miss Kate Warlick, a young lady in Cleveland county, was conversing mer-rily with two lady friends when she gave a loud laugh, fell backward, gave a grean of anguish, and in less than two minutes was dead. St. John's Fair, in Cabarrus county, commences to-morrow and continues through Friday. The grounds are six miles east of Concord. This is one of the best county fairs in the State. It is always largely attended and has fine exhibits.

Peter M. Wilson, secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, was to-day appointed commissioner to represent orth Carolina at the Exposition at London next year.

Justices of the peace for Vance county were reappointed yesterday by Governor Scales. Very few magistrates now remain unappointed.

Arrangements are being made for an ccurate census for Raleigh. It is expected that this will show a population of 15,000.

The quality of new tobacco from this section, as shown at the breaks to-day, is more satisfactory than was reported. Governor Scales is greatly pressed with work. Just now the number of applications for pardons is very large. The Governor is not disposed to grant pardons or commute sentences save for Libel suits in this State are very rare. The Durham Reporter made very serious charges against a man named Robertson, who had recently made extensive purchases of property at Blowing Rock, Wataugua county. Robertson, accompanied by his lawyer, went to Durham to-day to institute a suit against the Experier for damages.

Reports from John T. Patrick, Commissioner of Agriculture, show that he is meeting with great success in his display of North Carolina resources at the various fairs in the Middle States.

The State Board of Agriculture will at its next meeting make all necessary arrangements for opening here the State Industrial School. It will be established in the buildings that were occupied by the State Exposition.

Transportation of Gold and Silver

Coin.
[By telegraph to the Dispatch.] WASHINGTON, September 9 .- John Hoey, vice-president of the Adams Express Company, had a conference with Secretary Manning and Treasurer Jor-dan at the Treasury Department to-day in regard to the transportation of gold and silver coin, which resulted in an agreement that hereafter all such shipments shall be made by the express company in accordance with the contract entered into by Secretary Sher-man. This will not, however, interfere with the shipment of $5,000,000 in silver from New Orleans to Washington on the United States steamers Swartara and Yantic, as the coin has aiready been placed on those vessels, and they will set sail in a few days. The remainder of coin at New Orleans which is to be transferred to Washington, amounting to about $15,-000,000, will be sent by express, and the same mode of transportation wi be adopted in the transfer of gold coin from San Francisco and silver coin from Carson City and elsewhere. A confer ence was held at the request of Secretary Manning, with the view, it is understood, to the transfer of a large amount of gold and silver coin from distant points, where it is lying idle, to the commercial centres, where it more likely to be needed. [By telegraph to the Dispatch.] WHITEHALL, N. Y., September The Montreal express, which Albany at 11:30 last night, at 3 this morning struck a rock which had fallen from a side hill upon the track, one mile north of Comstock's landing. The more terrible to honest cowmen than engine was thrown from the track and the Lee gang. The coroner held an inturned bottom side up. Two baggage-cars and the smoking-car also turned quest on the bodies yesterday after-noon, this being thought necessary to over; but the passenger-coach and two sleeping-cars remained on the track. Engineer Frank Brown was found under the engine dead, with his hand on the throttle. The injured are the baggage-man, express-messenger, fireman, and one brakeman. There were about fifty passengers in the rear cars, but none of them were injured. The engine is badly wrecked, as are also the two baggage-cars. The track has been cleared and trains are running on time.

CATHOLICS IN CONVENTION.

MR. KEILEY IN ATTENDANCE. His Cerdial Reception-He Refers to His R.

cens Trenbles-Resolutions Condemning the Action of the Iralian and Austrian Govern-

(By telegraph to the Dispatch ! NEW YORK, September 9.—The delegates to the seventeenth annual Convention of the Irish Catholic National Benevolent Union attended mass in St. James Cathedrak Brooklyn, to-day. Bishop Loughlin made an address we coming the delegates and invoking the Divine blessing on them and their work. The delegates then marched to their hall, when Mr. Wilken, of Philadelphia, was chosen chairman, and Martin J. Griffin secretary of the Convention, and various committees were appointed and a recess taken. It is proposed to appoint a committee to confer with the German Catholic Benevolent Association, now in session in the eastern district, with a view to effecting a union of the two be nevolent organizations. In the afternoon Hon, A. M. Keiley was present and made a brief address He was received heartily, and his remarks were freely punctuated with ap-plause. He referred to the good-will shown to him and the warmth of the greeting given him. He had been asiled with petty spite at home and with vile malignity abroad in the last four months, but it all vanished before this enthusiastic reception. He would not believe that it was all personal to himself. The papers of the two continents had much to say about him, but the real cause of his rejection was because his republican principles were too high to be acceptable to foreign na

After Mr. Keiley's departure the following resolution was unanimously adopted :

Whereas the public press of Austria and of the United States, with singular unanimity, announced the causes of the rejection by the former State of Hon. A. M. Keiley, our former president, as United States Minister, as being based in part upon the religious creed of his wife and partly upon the offence he gave to the King of Italy his denunciation of the spo liation of the Holy See by Victor Emmanuel, this Union, in convention assembled, desires to enter its protest against the insult to the American prin riples of liberty involved in each and both of the alleged causes. While this Convention proposes and is deter-mined to avoid all connection with parpolitics, it regards this action Austria as touching matters far above party and an infringement of the common rights of the American citizen and the independence of the American Gov. ernment

This affront, which is a matter of concern to all citizens, is especially resented by this Union, which for twelve successive years, and up to his departare for his post, conferred upon Mr. Keiley its highest office, and which extends to him its unabated confidence to-day. This Convention, for itself and for the great body of the Catholic people of the Union, assure the Administra-tion that in the maintenance of the dignity and honor of the United States in all appropriate forms it will have their constant and patriotic support, independent of party; nor do we doubt that ur fellow-citizens of all creeds will, with the liberality and justice characteristic of American citizens, equally resent the bigotry to which the rejection of Mr. Keiley is ascribed.

SPAIN AND GERMANY.

The Caroline Affair-Bismarck Pacific-Papers Suppressed. By cable to the Dispatch.

MADRID, September 9. duayers, Minister of Foreign Affairs, had a long interview to-day with Count Von Solms Sonniewalde, the German Envoy. It is rumored that the Govern ment has received information from the man-of-war Velasco showing that the report that the Pelew Islands had been occupied by Germany is not true. Military men here insist that their comrades at Yap acted under orders from Madrid and Manila, in order to avoid a conflict with the Germans. The campaign against the press is active. Thirty-four papers of Madrid have been prosecuted. Caricature journals are ing seized by wholesale. MADRID, September 9 .- Press cenorship prevents true accounts being received of the explosions of popular wrath against Germany at Saragossa, Valencia, Barcelona, Granada, and twenty other places.

Beelin, September 9.—Much uneasiness is felt here, owing to the possibility that other German vessels in the Pacific under orders to annex the Carolines may come into cellision with a Spanish man-of-war. LONDON, September 9,-A dispatch from Madrid to the Times says : Emperor William has sent a dispatch to King Alfonzo saying that he has no intention of trenching upon Spanish rights, and will do nothing to prejudice his eld friend Alfonzo, and that Germany will withdraw from Yap, abandon all her designs on the Caroline Islands, and admit Spanish sovereignty over those islands, provided it be made effective. It is rumored that Prince Bismarck wished to pursue his original plan, but was overruled by the Emperor.

BERLIN, September 9.—Emperor William has received a long and pressng letter from King Alfonso respecting the Carolines question and the situation of affairs in Spain growing out of it. The details of the letter have not been earned, but the contents greatly impressed Emperor William, Empress Augusta, and Crown Prince Frederick MADRID, September 9 .- Count olms Sonnewalde, the German Ambassador, has informed Senor Canovas lel Castillo that the retreat of the Spanish Government officials at Yap pefore the gunboat would not affect the uestion if Spain actually occupied the land first.

Not a single German has been atacked by Spaniards in this city since the beginning of the excitement over the German occupation of Yap. During the hottest part of the excitement on Saturday last, a crowd of Frenchmen grossly insulted several Germans in a afe, compelling the waiters and a number of Spaniards present to protect them from serious bodily harm. The Germans here eulogized the conduct of the Spaniards.

Foreign Notes. [By cable to the Dispatch.]

LONDON, September 9.-The Standard says it is willing to forget much of Mr. Chamberlain's socialism in consideration of the merciless way in which he castigated Parnell in his speech at Warrington vesterday. The newspapers this morning, despite long election speeches and columns about the Carolines affair, report the Armstrong trial verbatim. The Daily News says : At the sent moment there is less reason than ever for the Whigs to join the Con-servatives. Whether the Liberal majority be large or small, it will consist of the advanced section of the party, and the Liberal failing to pledge himself to changes in the land laws and taxa-tion has no chance of being heard.

The Standard to-day says that the rejection of Parnell's demands by re-sponsible Conservatives will be as dis-tinct as Chamberlain's speech at Warrington yesterday. More it cannot be. The nation owes much to Chamberlain for his opportune frankness in dealing with the Irish question.

(By cable to the Dispatch.) GIBRALTAR, September 9 .- There has been an alarming increase in the number of cholera cases at the Spanish lines in the past twenty-four he There have been 21 new cases and 12 deaths. No case has been reported in Gibraltar for ninety-six hours. Traffic is still open here, and 1,500 persons enter Gibraltar daily.

BRUSSELS, September 9.—It is rumored that there are several cases of cholera at Mons, the capital of the Province of Hainaut. Toulon, September 9 .- There were four deaths from cholera last night.

Fugitives are returning to the city in large numbers, and it is feared this will lead to a revival of the epidemic. Toulon, September 9.—There were three deaths from cholera in St. Mandrier Hospital to-day. None have been reported in this city.

MARSEILLES, September 9.—Eight

deaths from cholera were reported in this city to-day. Five patients were admitted to the Pharo Hospital, two were discharged cured, two died, and thirty-eight remain under treatment. LONDON, September 9 .- The Daily News's correspondent at Marseilles says that the municipal authorities are again minimizing the number of deaths from cholera in order to revive trade. PARIS, September 9.—There were six deaths from cholera yesterday at Salon, two at Nimes, and two at St. Cezaire.

The International Yacht-Races. (By telegraph to the Dispatch.)

NEW YORK, September 9 .- The New York Yacht Club, at a special meeting, have decided that the international yacht-races shall be sailed on September 11th, 14th, and 16th, respectively. The Puritan's crew unbent the foot of her mainsail early this morning, and by 3 o'clock the sailmaker had repaired the rent' made by the Genesta's bowsprit. The latter's new bowsprit was finished early in the day. It was taken on board the cutter at once, and by 6 o'clock to-night it was in place, the bobstay and shrouds set up, and the yacht all ready for Friday's race. The new spar is of yellowpine, weighing 250 pounds more than the old one. Captain Carter says to-day that he tried to avoid the accident, while Captain Crocker, of the Puritan asserts that he never left his wheel, and had no intention of sharp practice; that he found bimself in close quarters, tried to get away clear, and failed by about a foot.

[By telegraph to the Dispatch.] POTTSVILLE, PA., September 9 .-As a gang of fourteen miners were coming out of the Alto colliery at Branchdale, eight miles west of this city, this morning, a tremendous explosion of gas occurred, the ignition being caused by a miner's lamp on opening the door of a gangway in which the vapor had accumulated. John Linnet, aged seventeen, driver of the truck on which the men were riding, was instantly killed, and thirteen others were all less burned and mangled, some of them fatally. This mine has always been exceptionally free from gas, and the fire-boss had made his examination a short time before the accident without detecting the presence of sulphur.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET. disposed of some of the scentiles held by it to banking houses in leaston and necessary which it realized about its 600-000. The atoek opened at 48% and advanced by a little after midday to 51% on heavy covering of shorts and buying for a turn. Later the stock became foverish and finally weak, closing at 50, a net advance of 1%. The takes amounted to 107-200-shares out of a total of 313,800, its understood that the money which is to be replaced by the bonds soid has been borrowed by the company at 3 per cent, per annum, while it has soid bonds which bear e per cent. The fixed charges will be increased about $200,000, and there has been much inquiry on the street to know where the company is benefited, except that it has converted a foating debt into a fixed obligation. There was much surprise expressed at the acknowledgment on the last of the part of the company that the foating debt was as large as stated. The rest of the market responded singuishly to the advance in Union Pacific, and, with the exception of moderate business in lacks wanns and St. Fant, sales were or small smounts, and in most cases the finetantions were within the range of about 1 per cent. There was considerable feverishness in the general list after the opening, but before the end of the first hour the market became more steady and firm, and so continued until after 1 o'clock. Buring the remainder of the day all earlier advances were lost in a majority of cases, and for some stocks the lowest prices were made near the ciose. Coaless are higher, Grangers and Vanderbills were irregular.

Mr. Mudge's Trouble.

Some years ago, when the writer was reporter, it devolved on him to write for the same edition an account of the presentation of a gold-headed cane to the Rev. Mr. Mudge, the clergyman of the place, and a description of a new hog-killing machine that had just been in operation at the factory. Now, what made the Rev. Mr. Mudge mad was this: The inconsiderate compositor who made up the forms got the two accounts mixed up in a frightful manner, and when it went to press something like this was the appalling result : "Some of the Rev. Mr. Mudge's friends called on him yesterday, and, after a brief consultation, the unsuspecting hog was seized by the hind legs and slid along the beam until it reached the hot-water tank. His friends ex-plained the object of the visit, and presented him with a gold-headed butcher, who grabbed him by the tail and swung him around, and in less than a minute the carcass was in hot water. Therefore he came forward and said there were times when the feelings overpowered one, and for that reason he could not do more than to attempt to thank those around for the manner in which such an animal was cut into fragments was astonishing. The Doctor concluded his remarks, the machine seized him, and in less time than it takes to write it, the hog was cut into fragments, and worked into delicious sausages. The occasion will be remembered by the Doctor's friends as one of the most pleasant of their lives. The best pieces can be obtained for seven cents a pound, and we are sure those who sat under his ministry will rejoice to hear that he has been so handsomely Mad! Well, about 9 o'clock that morning the office had been abandoned by every man but the advertising clerk, and he ascended to the roof, so that he could see the clergyman tearing around down in the street with his congrega-tion all wearing the panoply of war, and carrying stout cudgels and other things. The next day we apologized, but the Doctor stopped his paper.

Vellow-Fever Near Savannah [By telegraph to the Dispatch.] SAVANNAH, GA., September 9.— Captain Bowden, of the British bark Victor, is reported to have died of yellow-fever at the Sapelo quarantine sta-tion yesterday. This is the first death from yellow-fever on the South Atlantic seabeard this year. No danger is ap-prehended, as all communication be-tween the mainland and the quarantine station is cut off. The rest of the Victor crew are reported convalescent, An Elepement and Its Patal Bessite, (By telegraph to the Dispatch.)

ATLANTA, GA., September 9.-

Miss Ida Maxwell to-day eloped with John R. Shelton. Her father and bro-ther found him at his mother's house and assaulted him. Shelton struck young Maxwell with a hammer. The father and Shelton then exchanged shots, each falling severely if not mortally wounded. The three men are all n a critical condition.
